The Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR), the nation's largest Muslim civil rights and advocacy organization, and 5ivepillars, an Islamic clothing and lifestyle brand headquartered in California, today announced the launch of a collaborative T-shirt initiative celebrating Islam's commitment to racial justice.

The front of the shirt features organizational branding over the left chest, while the back features a famous quote about racial equality said by Islam's Prophet Muhammed (pbuh):

"All mankind is from Adam and Eve. An Arab has no superiority over a non-Arab nor a non-Arab has any superiority over an Arab. Also a white has no superiority over black nor a black has any superiority over white except by piety and good action."

The quote is taken from the Prophet Muhammad's last sermon.

CAIR and 5ivepillars are donating all profits from sales of the T-shirts to diverse Muslim organizations working to foster racial justice and counter anti-Black racism, starting with the Muslim Anti-Racism Collaborative (MuslimARC) and the Muslim Alliance of North America (MANA).

In a statement, CAIR National Deputy Director Edward Ahmed Mitchell said:

"As our society continues to grapple with the pervasive and persistent threat of anti-Black racism, American Muslim institutions must redouble efforts to celebrate racial diversity, counter racism and deliver Islam's message of racial equality. To that end, it is important to support — in word and deed — African-American-led organizations advocating for racial justice in our nation. We at CAIR are excited to launch this T-shirt line with 5ivepillars in support of those goals."
